

TOPICS' Planners May Bend Some

The recommendations regarding the TOPICS program for downtown Andover will not be presented at Monday's meeting of the selectmen, but some concessions have been made by consultants on the project.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, after receiving reports from the consultants this week, reports that he will confer with members of the Andover Chamber of Commerce TOPICS committee and probably have some recommendations for the June 10 meeting.

Chamber and local officials are concerned about the loss of parking spaces in the downtown area. The TOPICS program is designed to improve safety and traffic flow in the downtown area as part of an overall plan of improvements for Main Street from Shawsheen Square to the academy.

Austin reported this week that the consultants are willing to reconsider the removal of four parking areas in the vicinity of Chestnut and Main streets.

Originally, the plan called for the removal of the parking spaces at this location, but, based on Chamber and the manager's request, these will be placed back in.

The consultants are not willing to reconsider the parking spaces in Elm Square. Realignment of the square and crosswalks will not permit the picking up of two spots there, the consultants state.

Upwards of 40 parking spaces in the downtown area are affected by the plan and are under negotiation by the manager, selectmen and chamber representatives.

Town officials have been requested to avoid, if at all possible, any further loss of downtown parking areas.

School Unity Goal Of Session

A group of Andover citizens, concerned that the air be cleared and the School Committee get back about the business of educating the children, has set up an open meeting for Monday at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Hall Library.

Any interested person is invited and the hope is to attract people from "all sides of the issue."

Dr. Matthew Cushing, considered "in the middle of the road" philosophically, will be moderator.

This is not something that is already planned, a spokesman said, adding that the meeting will be held in a public place, in order to be open and available to all. Rules and goals will be formulated Monday night.

Dr. Cushing said the committee will offer an opportunity for a meeting of the minds of people with strong views on the school system - with an emphasis on facts.

"I'm very concerned," he said, "about the large number of solid citizens who are upset one way or another." Each side, he said, is afraid the system is going more in the direction of the other extreme.

The problem arises, he went on, when one side or the other hasn't full information.

But, he said, when people of good will are given the information and are not blinded by prejudice and extremism, then there is a significant area of compromise.

Mrs. George Bixby, one of the members of a steering committee, said this week she had a "very special feeling that if we don't get together as a community, then we won't progress educationally."

"We need some kind of symposium to say what we want to say without feeling intimidated," she went on, call-

Memorial Tribute Paid Monday

Noting the absence of American men and women engaged in a military conflict somewhere in the world on this Memorial Day, Commander Kent L. Schroeder stressed the significance of the holiday at the main service of Andover's traditional Memorial Day ceremonies Monday morning.

Dismal weather failed to dampen the spirit of the Veterans groups, town officials, Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops who participated in the parade and ceremonies.

Members of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2128 and American Legion Post 8 and their auxiliaries, joined by clergymen, paid tribute to the honored dead at the town's cemeteries prior to the parade.

Commander Schroeder, an Andover resident, and assigned to the group commanders staff at the Lawrence Reserve center, in the main address commented on not only the pleasure of participating in a Memorial Day service free of U.S. engagement in armed conflict, but also the relief for parents who no longer must await word of their sons from battlefields, or of young men not facing the draft as part of their future.

The speaker, commenting on the historic significance of Memorial Day, emphasized the need to take time to honor the memory of those who served in all wars, from the Civil War to the unpopular "non-wars," of Korea and Vietnam.

"It is well that we pause today, amid the rush of the 21st century activities, to dwell upon the memory of the illustrious dead who gave their lives for their country, and who

MASS Group To Aid In Regan Case

A representative of the Massachusetts Association of Superintendents of Schools has asked to appear on the agenda of Tuesday's School Committee meeting to discuss its dismissal of Edward Regan as assistant superintendent of schools.

George Hill, executive secretary of MASS, made the request after meetings last week with Regan and the Merrimack Valley Superintendents' Association.

MASS apparently has offered its assistance in assuring that the reasons for Regan's non-re-election be made public.

Meanwhile, the grievance of William Becker, who was demoted as head of the English Department at Andover High, is proceeding along the timelines provided in the

Evaluation Of Program Scheduled

Evaluation of programs and planning for fall activities will be the major items on the agenda at a meeting of the State Individually Guided Education Coordinating Council which will take place at noon on May 30 at the Lowell Town House. Attending will be a group of educators who work with the three Leagues of IGE schools in Massachusetts plus representatives from the Merrimack Education Center in Chelmsford which has been helping towns in this area establish IGE programs in their schools.

Individually Guided Education is a program for individualizing a child's education while at the same time helping teachers and administrators build a capacity for continuous self-improvement. It is currently being used in 35 Massachusetts schools and more than 2000 schools throughout the United States. Local towns having IGE schools include Andover, Chelmsford, North Chelmsford, Fitchburg, Lawrence, Littleton, Methuen, Topsfield, Tewksbury, Tyngsboro, Westford, Wilmington and Woburn.

The newly formed State IGE Coordinating Council is one of many being set up throughout the United States under a grant from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. These state councils will be working with their state departments of education, regional leagues of IGE schools, teacher education institutions and local school districts to help schools plan the changeover to IGE, to provide inservice education to the school staff during the first years of the changeover and to prepare undergraduate and ing recent school committee meetings "conciliatory" and adding that she would be ashamed if her children acted the way adults have at the recent sessions.

She said she hoped the new committee could be sort of a liaison between the community and the committee, and even do "dirty work" for the board.

Mrs. Milton Cole said she felt it should be a working committee and that perhaps it might be divided into working subcommittees to seek out information for the school committee and the community.

Such subcommittees, she said, could concern themselves with discipline, IMS (Individualized Math System), testing, or the like, "Whatever is the current concern."

While the organization is not being formed to "get Regan and Becker back their jobs," she said that a subcommittee might study that situation too, if they so chose.

She said the group could seek useful information about things going on in other communities, as well as in Andover schools, and that seminars could be set up on different subjects.

In addition to looking for people from both the so-called conservative and liberal elements, Mrs. Bixby said the group was also looking for "unlabeled people" - perhaps new people in town who would be able to approach school problems with a fresh, unbiased point of view.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert commented this week that he thought any activity that could draw this "pluralistic" community together, would be a good, positive move.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert will report back to the school committee Tuesday on the implications of the new reorganization plan. The fact that you were chosen, based on your employment and scholastic records, as well as your personal character references, is certainly a reflection of your outstanding abilities."

8 ACT Prepares For Theatre Competition

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 30, 1974

Anticipating their first time in competition, the Andover Community Theatre is busy putting the final touches on "The Ugly Duckling" by A.A. Milne. This will be held by the New England Theatre Conference at the Spingold Theatre, Brandeis University in Waltham. ACT's presentation will be on Saturday, June 1, at 7:30.

"The Ugly Duckling" is great good fun, written with A.A. Milne's delicious sense of humor. Imagine a paranoiac King, a domineering Queen and a subversive Chancellor all trying to marry off a seemingly ugly Princess, and you have the bare bones of the plot. Other characters include a Prince, his not-too-bright attendant and a luscious lady-in-waiting. The parts are played respectively by George Doran, Sue Lenoe, Al Swenson, Anita McDuffie, Rick Cannon, Michael Doran and Elaine Ciampa. Directing is Rick Winterson.

This play will be presented for the community on June 7 and 8 at 8 in the West Elementary School, in "An Evening of One-Acts."

The other two plays on the bill are "Death of the Hired Man," a play based on a poem by Robert Frost, directed by Rick Cannon, and a suspense play "The Monkey's Paw" by W.W. Jacobs, directed by Ed Stoddard.

This, ACT's final production for the season is a nicely rounded program combining pathos, mystery and comedy, and should appeal to everyone.

Tickets may be purchased from any cast member, at Resnick's or Thompson's and at the door.

Registration for the Academic Summer School Program and the Recreation / Community Schools Enrichment Program will be held at West Elementary School on Monday, June 3 and Tuesday, June 4 from 3:30 - 5 p.m.

The Recreation / Community Schools registration is only for those children enrolling in academic courses who also wish to take enrichment courses. A full registration for all 5 playgrounds will be held at each area on Monday, June 10 and Tuesday, June 11, from 3 - 4:30 p.m.

The following is the time schedule for the academic courses to be offered:

Mathematics, 9 - 10 a.m., grades 3-4; 10 - 11 a.m., grades 5-6; 11 - 12 noon, grades 1-2.

Language Arts, 9 - 10 a.m., grades 5-6; 10 - 11 a.m., grades 1-2; 11 - 12 noon, grades 3-4.

Linguistics, by appointment.
Speech Therapy, by appointment.

Typing, 9 - 10 a.m., grades 3-4; 10 - 11 a.m., grade 5; 11 - 12 noon, grade 6.

In conjunction with the academic summer school at West Elementary the Recreation / Community Schools Department will again offer a comprehensive enrichment program. While the basic program is the same as at the other 4 areas, the scope of the academic program necessitates a greater number of hours of enrichment activities at this school.

The enrichment program at West Elementary only has been broken into 3 grade sets to coincide with the structure of the academic program. The divisions are: grades K-2, grades 3-4 and grades 5-6. Children must register for academic courses before signing up for enrichment activities.

A booklet containing the schedule of enrichment courses offered at all 5 playgrounds can be obtained at the Recreation / Community Schools office, 36 Bartlett St., Andover.

Girl Scout Day Camp Plans Set

The Merrimack River Girl Scout Council's day camp directors met recently to discuss the upcoming camp season beginning officially on July 1.

Greater Lawrence, Billerica, Tewksbury and Wilmington are served by Camp Merrymeeting, located on Pomp's Pond in Andover. Directing Merrymeeting this year for the first time is Lucille Roy of Lawrence.

Ms. Roy, who has been a Brownie leader in the Merrivale Neighborhood for two years, was the assistant business manager last year. Ms. Roy attributes her enthusiasm for directing camp to her "love for the out-of-doors and of Scouting. I don't think I've ever been so busy and so happy both at the same time as I have been in Scouting," she said.

Looking forward to the summer, Ms. Roy said her primary goal is to "provide each camper with a happy camping experience. Our program will include swimming, boating, crafts, nature and archery. But being a Girl Scout camp we are able to offer more than the usual. Our whole program is based on the growth and development of each individual girl."

As an example, the director pointed out that the campers plan and carry out cookouts by themselves. The trained staff guides and supervises but the planning is left up to the girls.

"This helps girls develop responsibility, better working relationships with others and a real sense of accomplishment in a job well done," Ms. Roy said.

The campers also have the opportunity to spend an overnight at camp. During the second session, there will be a Cadette "Day and Stay Program" for girls in grades 7-9. The first week the girls will plan and prepare for an extended over night in the second week.

Camp sessions at Merrymeeting are scheduled as follows:

Session I - July 1 - July 11 (none on July 4)

Session II - July 15 - July 25.

For applications for staff or campers, contact the Merrimack River Girl Scout Council office at 89 North Main Street, Andover, phone (617) 475-4511. Non-Scouts are also invited to apply.

Let's Talk Real Estate

Ethel

It's practically a catch word that a house which is clean and grounds which look trim, sell a house more easily. But it's amazing how few sellers realize what minor repairs can do to increase the value of property in the eyes of prospective buyers. Even if the new owner does have ideas of his own, it does not alter the fact that he will lower his offering price if he sees that repairs or painting of a house are needed. Sometimes this reduction is far lower than the cost of repairs and painting. So do that extra sprucing up -- it counts!

Bancroft Music, Arts Festival

The Bancroft PTO sponsored annual Music and Arts Festival will be held at Bancroft School on Friday evening June 7 and Saturday June 8. The event will be under the auspices of Miss Sara Lisce, Art; Miss Judith Palmer, Music; and Alan Minkennan, Band.

Tributes To Dad

Father's Day is 50 years old, but tributes to Dad are an ancient tradition. Probably the oldest is a clay tablet written by Elmesu a Babylonian, about 2000 years before Christ. It implores the gods to grant his father good health and "enduring days."

Crop Irrigation Expected To Expand

Crop irrigation is expected to increase some 3 million acres in the next 15 years.

An estimated 40 million acres of cropland and pastures are now being irrigated in the western United States.

In the future, however, USDA economic researchers see irrigation coming into use for fruit and vegetable crops in Florida and for cotton and rice crops in the Mississippi Delta states.

12 Epilepsy Group Hears Dr. Paradis

The first meeting of the newly formed Greater Merrimack Valley Epilepsy Association was held recently at Kurth Auditorium. Lawrence General Hospital.

Dr. Roger W. Paradis, neurologist of Lawrence, was the guest speaker. He gave a general introduction to the history, symptoms, and treatment of epilepsy. In his talk he stressed that in the vast majority of cases of epilepsy there can be complete control of symptoms with medication. He emphasized that much of the difficulty experienced by epileptics and their families in the past arose from fear, ignorance, and a tendency of epileptics to unnecessarily restrict the pursuit of normal life activities.

Following Dr. Paradis's talk there was a general discussion of future plans for the association. These plans include continuing education of the public as well as various professional groups, setting up parents groups for the purpose of sharing their experiences in dealing with the problems of epilepsy in the family.

There are plans to co-sponsor special education programs for medical, nursing, and educational professionals. The study of the need for additional clinical of social services also will be part of the long-range goals of this association.

Wind Energy Research Is Urged

"An inexpensive, non-polluting energy source to aid a fast-growing hungry nation is easily within grasp," said Congressman F. W. Cronin as he demanded that the electric utilities of New England research wind energy as a supplement for fossil fuels generating electricity.

Cronin, a member of the Senate committee on Energy of the House Committee on Science and Astronautics, cross-examined NASA expert Dr. Bernard Lubarsky today about utilization of wind energy during the first Congressional hearing ever held on the subject. Dr. Lubarsky, Deputy Director of Technology at NASA's Lewis Research Center, told Cronin of research studies in the field of wind power and related information about a project sponsored by NASA.

Wind Energy Research Is Urged

"An inexpensive, non-polluting energy source to aid a fuel-hungry nation is easily within our grasp," said Congressman Paul W. Cronin as he demanded that the electric utilities of New England research wind energy as a supplement for fossil fuels in generating electricity.

Cronin, a member of the Subcommittee on Energy of the House Committee on Science and Astronautics, cross-examined NASA expert Dr. Bernard Lubarsky today about utilization of wind energy during the first Congressional hearing ever held on the subject. Dr. Lubarsky, Deputy Director of Technology at NASA's Lewis Research Center, told Cronin of research studies in the field of wind power and related information about a project sponsored by NASA and the National Science Foundation to demonstrate a new type of windmill. This 100-kilowatt power station, to be erected next year at Sandusky, Ohio, will prove the feasibility of modern windmills.

"NASA has asked every utility in New England within the past week to assist in this venture. It is inconceivable to me that companies which have passed the increased cost of fuels on to the consumer through the fuel adjustment clause would not agree to honor this request, which would utilize wind power as a supplement to fossil fuels in the production of energy," Cronin said.

Citing New England's power rates as the "highest in the nation since the 1920s," the Congressman reported that "expert testimony before my committee stated that wind power would be commercially available to public utilities by 1980. These companies would utilize the power by feeding it into their grid system." Cronin argued that since the cost of generating electricity by wind power would be fixed at the time the windmill was purchased, the need for fuel adjustment costs would never arise. "In fact," he said, "rates for this alternative energy source would be comparative with, and in the long run cheaper than, conventional fuels." He added that an extensive power system could convert wind to electricity today at a cost as low as 8 mills (.8 cents) per kilowatt hour.

To Present Arias At Bradford

As part of the Commencement festivities, Bradford College will present a program of operatic arias Thursday, May 30 at 8:30 p.m. in Denworth Hall. Sponsored by the college's music department, the program is the only part of the commencement celebration open to the public.

The Opera Studio production is designed to demonstrate the work of a selected group of voice students of Barbara McClosky. It serves as a kind of laboratory for members of the seminar on Opera and the Drama, and as a practical studio for students in the interim term course on Opera and Musical Theater Production. The arias and scenes represent first steps for young singers who are beginning a long process of work in vocal training, languages and stage deportment necessary for a singing career.

Included in the program, which is open to the public free of charge, are arias by Rossini, Mozart, Tchaikowsky, Johann Strauss, and Donizetti.

16 Fun Fair Plans Set

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 30, 1974

Students, parents, teachers alike are sharing in the fun of preparation for South School's annual "Fun Fair" on Saturday, June 8. The event, held on the school grounds, will begin at 8 a.m. with a hearty pancake and sausage breakfast, and continue until 3 p.m.

Boys and girls in the upper Orange and Green wings have expressed their enthusiasm by the preparation of colorful posters advertising the popular Cake Decorating Contest. Prizes are awarded in various categories, and entries will be sold as part of the popular and profitable Bake Sale.

Young musicians are busily perfecting their skills for a student band concert, planned as one of the feature attractions of the busy day.

Children who enjoy a respite from the many exciting Field Events and Fun Fair games can look forward to an expanded Arts and Crafts area.

Among the opportunities for creative expression are college, autograph graffiti, flour clay for small object design, "decorate your own cookie", finger painting and wood sculpture. Visitors to the day's program will also enjoy a demonstration by a professional potter of clay work on an electric wheel.

Babe Ruth Team Impresses

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team continued its impressive pre-season play last Monday evening, edging South Lawrence East 2-1 in a practice game at the Playstead Field.

The locals have posted three straight victories against league opponents, allowing only two runs and making just two errors over a 21-inning stretch.

Andover received a four-hit pitching performance from the combined efforts of Mark LaLonde, Dan Hayes and Jeff Hubbell. The trio issued only two walks and fanned seven batters.

LaLonde worked the first three innings, allowing three hits, whiffing five and walking none.

Hayes toiled the next two frames, surrendering one hit and allowing only one ball to be hit out of the infield against him. He walked two and struck out one.

Hubbell stretched his pre-season scoreless inning string to five, permitting one single and fanning one.

Andover managed only four singles itself by Thom Lawler, Mark LaLonde, Bob Zwicker and Dan Hayes.

Trading Runs

The teams traded runs in the first stanza. Tony Grillo's single, a stolen base and Chuck Prescott's RBI single gave SLE a brief 1-0 edge in the top of the first.

Andover tied it moments later when Lawler singled, stole second and third, and raced home on an overthrow.

South Lawrence East threatened in the fifth when Prescott doubled and took third on an infield out. Lou Tormes walked and stole second with two out, but the next batter fouled to Lawler at first.

The locals came back to net the winning run in the bottom of the fifth.

Singles by Bob Zwicker and Dan Hayes, along with a walk to Greg Nicastro, loaded the bases with no outs.

A safety-squeeze bunt was mis-played for the go-ahead tally, but Andover then left the bases jammed to keep the game close.

SLE made its final thrust in the seventh. Grillo led with a single and promptly stole second and third.

The visitors then attempted a suicide squeeze that backfired, and catcher Gary Needham initiated a rundown that caught Grillo.

Defensive standouts for Andover included first baseman Lawler and second sacker Chuck Souter.

Jamboree

Andover will participate in the first annual Greater-Lawrence

Babe Ruth League Jamboree this Saturday under the lights at Lawrence Stadium. A three-inning "mini-game" will match Andover and Methuen.

The regular-season opens in earnest next Monday night when Andover plays host to always-tough North Andover, picked as the team to beat this year. The locals trek to Methuen Tuesday evening.

The sparrow's name is derived from a Ninth Century Gothic word, sparwa, the flutterer. The martin was named by the French for Mars, God of War, because of its bravery in attacking crows and hawks. The original English name of the loon was loom, which meant lame or clumsy. This bird's legs are placed toward the rear of the body so that it is awkward on land, the Massachusetts Audubon Society tells us.

Increased Dividend Considered

Directors of Raytheon Company next month will consider increasing the company's regular quarterly cash dividend on its common stock by 2½ cents a share.

At the Raytheon annual meeting here recently, President Thomas L. Phillips told shareowners the company's management would recommend the boost to the board at its June 26 dividend meeting. Should the recommendation be accepted, the quarterly payout would increase to 20 cents a share, beginning with the dividend payable in July. The present quarterly rate of 17½ cents a share was established in June of last year when the board agreed to a similar management proposal for a 2½ cent dividend hike.

In discussing the current-year outlook, the Raytheon executive noted that the company may reach its 1975 objectives in 1974. He referred to the five-year plan announced in 1970, which set the following goals for 1975: total sales of $1.8 billion; commercial sales of $1.0 billion (or 55 per cent of the total); international sales accounting for 20 per cent of the total; and earnings of $3.50 a share.

Taking into account Raytheon's performance in 1974's first four months and projections for the remainder of the year, Mr. Phillips said, "It looks as if we will be able to achieve all our 1975 objectives one year early."

In 1973, the company earned $3.03 a share on sales of $1.59 billion.

Shareowners also learned that Raytheon's order backlog has risen to an all-time high. As announced earlier, the company's total backlog amounted to $1.4 billion at the end of 1973 and rose to $1.6 billion at the close of 1974's first quarter. Mr. Phillips reported that the backlog continued to rise in April and totaled a record $2.0 billion at the end of the month.

He noted that the backlog growth is largely attributable to previously announced new orders for air-defense systems, and for work in the energy field. He specifically mentioned contracts to provide Improved Hawk and NATO Seasparrow air-defense

The Raytheon official told stockholders the company has embarked on its largest capital expansion program to date.

Annual Bible School To Be Conducted

The annual Vacation Bible School will be held at the Andover Baptist Church beginning Monday, June 24, at 9:30 a.m. Sessions will run from 9:30 a.m. to noon each day through Friday, June 28, for children from age 4 through 12 with a varied program of activities including songs, stories, crafts, Bible teaching, games and films. A public program will be held on Sunday, June 30, at 7 p.m. with an exhibit and demonstration by the children.

A new feature this year will be a special class for mothers conducted by Mrs. James O'Shea. This will allow mothers to stay during the morning and participate in a rewarding experience of relating the Bible to their everyday needs.

The director of the Vacation Bible School, Mrs. Charles Towne, will hold a pre-registration for the School on Sunday, June 9, from 12 to 1:30 p.m. at the Andover Baptist Church. The School sets no fee and is open to all denominations and any unchurched children in the town. Pre-registration allows the School to plan materials and insure space, and so we urge parents to try to pre-register on June 9.

Chelsea Porcelain On Display

The Museum of Fine Arts assembles its 18th century Chelsea Porcelain collection, one of the foremost in the country, for exhibition May 23 through August. Focusing exclusively on work from Chelsea, this exhibition provides a comprehensive view of the art produced in the most famous of English porcelain factories.

Over one hundred porcelain objects, characterized by exquisite modeling and painting, are included in this exhibition. Each piece represents the work of several craftsmen specially skilled in one aspect of a highly complex process. The imaginatively designed figurines and wares, which includes vases, cups, saucers, tureens and many other useful objects, were made both by mold casting and free modeling techniques.

Chelsea was founded in 1747-8 to imitate and rival porcelains from the Orient and Meissen, Germany. Chelsea craftsmen borrowed decorative motifs from the Oriental porcelains and copied the stances and poses of figures in the works from Meissen. They found a valuable design source in the natural forms of fruits and vegetables and exotic and domestic birds and animals. Such picturesque models as rat-catchers, fruit vendors, flower girls and hurdy-gurdy players from the contemporary scene and mythological creatures also inspired the creative Chelsea craftsmen

H-P Reports Increase In Sales

Hewlett-Packard Company today reported a 32 percent increase in sales and a 40 percent increase in earnings for the second quarter of the Company's fiscal year.

Sales for the second quarter ended April 30 totaled $216,423,000, compared with $163,622,000 for the corresponding quarter of fiscal 1973. Net earnings amounted to $20,467,000, equal to 76 cents per share on 27,018,268 shares of common stock outstanding. This compares with earnings of $14,569,000, equal to 54 cents a share on 26,615,975 shares, during last year's second quarter.

William R. Hewlett, HP President, said the Company's incoming orders for the quarter amounted to $225,706,000, a gain of 29 percent over orders of $175,393,000 booked in the corresponding period of 1973. For the six month period ended April 30, orders totaled $442,958,000, up 34 percent from a year ago.

Sales for the six months amounted to $405,591,000, a 40 percent increase over the first half of 1973. Net earnings rose 50 percent to $34,997,000 equal to $1.30 a share. This compares with earnings of $23,254,000, equal to 87 cents a share, during last year's first half.

Hewlett said virtually all HP's operating divisions are reporting a higher level of business in 1974.

"International markets have been particularly strong," he noted. "with orders from international customers amounting to $211,408,000 for the six-month period. This represents a gain of 52 percent over the corresponding period of 1973. Domestic orders for the same period have risen 20 percent to $231,550,000."

Employment Picture Unchanged

Unemployment in the Bay State remained substantially unchanged in March according to John D. Crosier, Director of the Massachusetts Division of Employment Security.

The unemployment rate increased from a revised 7.6 per cent in February to 7.8 per cent in March. Except for the disruptions caused by labor disputes, the State experienced only minor changes in employment levels from February to March.

A comparison of the first quarter 1974 figures to the first quarter of 1973 reveals that the durable goods sector continues to be the strongest sector in the economy. Employment in this sector during the first quarter has increased by 15,000 jobs or 4.9 per cent over the corresponding 1973 figure. The increase in both the durable goods sector and manufacturing employment as a whole experienced in March marks the twentieth consecutive month - with the exception of July 1973 - in which employment in these crucial sectors has increased. These gains represent a continuation of trends and emphasize the underlying strength of the economy.

Valle's Has Record Revenues

Valle's Steak House has reported record sales and revenues for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1974. Sales and revenues reached $37,603,836, up 19 per cent from the $31,680,245 reported a year ago. Net earnings for the year were $1,930,803, up 14 per cent from last year's $1,697,233. On a per share basis, the Company earned 86 cents, up from 76 cents in 1973. Last year's net earnings included $87,864 or 3 cents per share from the gain on sale from real estate not used for restaurant purposes. The Company did not have any significant real estate sales in fiscal 1974.

Richard D. Valle, President, attributed the year's improved results to the opening of three new units and to moderate gains in sales and earnings from the Company's established units.

We are very pleased with these results," Mr. Valle said. "This was a very difficult environment in which to operate. Rapidly increasing inflation, food shortages, changing economic controls, increased interest costs and the energy crisis all presented challenges which were met successfully by the Company."

"The year just completed was one of great significance for Valle's," Mr. Valle added. "Our three new units which we opened this year are all located in the South - Atlanta, Richmond and Fort Lauderdale. In addition, we will soon be opening a unit in Daytona Beach."

"Finishing Touches"

By Jean Kerr

Andoverites -- attention! if you can get away from chores, garden parties, reception, graduations, recitals and the like these busy days -- hie thee to the Shubert Theatre.

Jean Kerr, in less than three hours with careful comical, sophisticated, sometimes biting sometimes poignant text tells our temporary scene. From the kid stand-point and so beautifully from the weathered look of a 23 year marriage.

Barbara Bel Geddes and Robert Lansing are the stars of this sturdy domestic brouhaha. They are both magnificent. Barbara, of course, belongs in that Zoe Caldwell, Barbara Barrie, Julie Hayden class of women who just light up the stage. Their voices, bearing, the way they handle the lines, their whole ambience -- it's just star quality they have. With Jean Kerr's lines, Barbara Bel Geddes is sensational.

Well, enough said. You most likely remember her some ten years back in "Mary, Mary." The gal's got charisma. That's all. She isn't a knock-out. In her opening scene bathrobe, the character says, "Reminds one of World War I."

We perhaps didn't come for style. But we do get total absorption. A nice corduroy, slouchy, warm pre-occupied Professor Dad. Three interesting sons sized from eleven and energetic to twenty-two and very independent.

Some lovely girls appear: Actress Hope Busby is the Grad Student in Daddy's Poetry Seminary who causes some upset in his perturbations. Strains, worries and speculations which he quite generously shares with his spouse.

Miss Jill O'Hara is the "femme fatale" -- the actress whom the Harvard lad brings home for a weekend. Thus the plot thickens. Add in the next door neighbor with the twenty year crush on our housewife and you have a Jean Kerr comedy.

We are never for a minute let down by Joseph Anthony's direction. We get some wonderful lines, especially the parrying between the wife (Barbara Bel Geddes) with the husband (Robert Lansing) and admirer (Gene Rupert).

The set is terrific. It has substance, texture, it is homely-happy. Bay windows, small leaded panes, a patio and trellis, fairly non-descript living room sofa, coffee table and down cushion chair all of twenty year vintage.

Lots of wood moulding, a rising staircase, with good lines, several entrances and exits.

It's a lived in place. Dad, boys and Mom. Domestic bliss, really, as the package comes in the present. Oh yes, the time is the present -- very much so. And the length of that portion of Cooper history is one day. Just one day at a time.

You have a chance in this play to empathize. The Dad with his free floating anxiety, his fantasies.

Mom -- a bit dowdy, almost unaware, willing to play ostrich, until she moves herself into second gear.

The neighbor, the visitors, the lads who share the house, raid the ice box and pester Mom and Dad -- all eat their way into your heart.

The marriage "complaint" lines are familiar: She -- "You talk at me, through me and past me --"

Lots of discussion about life patterns and possibly change. Some nice stuff from "Encounter." Some long-suffering, some scheming and double dealing. Some nice analyses of "old folks" philosophy by the young, as they analyze Mom and Dad telling them: "You are free to do what we want you to do." Even the parents come to realize that is no "big deal."

If author Paul Goddman can say of Theatre -- "It is community therapy" -- then you're in for a good, happy catharsis in this Broadway hit comedy.

Barbara Bel Geddes has some of the punch of Irma Bombeck, even Phyllis Diller. She flounders at times -- calls herself "world's prize idiot." But watch her in "third gear."

This is a "crash course" in contemporary suburban family living. Rated PG. Get a baby-sitter, tell your friends and come -- "Goddwin" is right, it's good therapy.

"Finishing Touches" -- is just that. A grand comedy to bring mirth and hope of a second spring to families -- especially the over forty set.

See how our hero -- always "programmed" solves his secret Errol Flynn dreams -- when he is flattered and likened to "Peter Finch" and his worn look is caressed.

All onstage -- at the Shubert Theatre -- Boston until Saturday, June first.

Seek Support For Center

"Celebrate '74" is the National Center for Afro-American Artists' outpouring of song, dance, art, instrumental music and theater, the yearly high water mark of the achievements of the Elma Lewis School of Fine Arts and its associated artists. "Black Nativity" performed in Andover last December, is one of the best known productions.

"Celebrate '74" also is the annual fundraiser for the Center, reminds Virginia Powel, art instructor at Phillips Academy and Andover coordinator of the Friends of the National center for Afro-American Artists. The theme this year is "The Black Child: Who's Got His Own."

The Center's artists have performed and won acclaim locally, nationally and internationally, and already have been chosen by the BiCentennial Commission for inclusion in the nation's birthday celebration.

The trouble is, Mrs. Powel point out, that the center needs operating funds to continue its services to Boston, including art, music, dancing and theater training for over 500 city youngsters. Foundation funds pay only a portion of the costs, and some of the funds must be matched by community support, to be available at all. The Friends of the Center are seeking persons willing to be guarantors, or $100 contributors, who will receive tickets for all the events of "Celebrate '74". They also seek persons who wish to join the Friends, who can support this important cultural force in Boston with lesser amounts, through purchase of tickets to single events in "Celebrate '74", or simply by donation.

Everyone interested in "Celebrate '74" and the National Center for Afro-American Artists should contact Mrs. Harford Powel, 135 Main St., Andover.

A Proper Goal

A group of Andover people are to get together beginning next Monday night in an effort to bring about some unity within the town's school system.

Such an effort is overdue and we would hope that their efforts will meet with success.

The meeting at Memorial Hall library Monday night is not designed to cater to the desires of any particular group, political, or of particular educational philosophical persuasion.

It is aimed at finding a common meeting ground for those interested in the public education system of Andover.

We have been commenting, editorially, on a need for getting back to operating and directing the town's education system for the past several weeks.

The town has been embroiled in controversy since the March election. The new majority has moved in and taken action, not pleasing, of course, to those of an opposite view.

But the fact remains that there are currently four members of the Andover school committee who have a majority control over the town's educational direction. They were elected and will complete their terms, barring unforeseen problems or difficulties.

The last session of the Andover school committee was the epitome of discourtesy.

Those in attendance continuously guffawed, or offered critical jeers when a committeeman offered an opinion, other than the thoughts given by School Committeeman William L. Lane.

At one point, the superintendent came dangerously close to being in sharp conflict with school committee direction on the matter of filling the assistant superintendent position.

The courts are being approached with cases involving Andover educators and Andover school committee differences of opinion.

Under such circumstances, a proper educational climate can not exist.

Thus, it falls to a general meeting of interested citizens to find a common ground on which to build a proper understanding of workable goals by which educators can teach and students learn in Andover.

While the task may be formidable it is not insurmountable if those attending Monday night's session are agreeable to a proper give and take attitude, or, at least granting that others too, have a point of view.

Weekend Thoughts

It might seem an absurd suggestion, but guidance counsellors and parents might do well to pause and reflect a bit on the future of Massachusetts highways, with an eye toward providing ample livelihoods for the youth of today.

If a young person with a semblance of artistic ability in the elementary or secondary grades were to begin gathering barrels and painting them in his off hours, there well could be a promising and lucrative future for him in this state.

As matters stand at the moment, Route 93 construction appears as though it will go on for an eternity.

And, the barrels will need to be placed and illuminated on the highway, throughout this period.

For those enterprising enough to attempt such an occupation, it must be borne in mind that the barrels and other highway obstructions are used particularly during peak holiday traffic periods, such as the Memorial Day weekend just passed and again on the Fourth of July, and long weekends.

The barrels are strung out for long distances, protecting work areas where there is no obvious road deflections or work being done, but they will stand as dangerous barriers to heavy traffic during this period.

We recognize the need for some protective barriers for workmen when construction is in progress, but these glaring, orange barrels, stand as rather dangerous obstacles when heavy traffic flows are expected such as on holiday or summer weekends.

Route 93, we are sure, is not the only such roadway affected.

Expressways, north and south of here, are also strewn with the orange monsters.

Suggestion of pursuing highway barrel-making, is of course somewhat facetious, but the matter of highway safety is not.

It seems a little extra time could be provided to make the roads safer on weekends, particularly during the summer and holiday season, by insuring the more judicious placement of the barriers by contractors and state authorities.

If Route 93 construction, in particular, is to be seemingly endless, then it would seem imperative that some consideration be given to safer passage over the "double-barreled" highway.

Off The Top Of The Desk

Traffic in and around the Cape is generally bad enough on a holiday weekend without having some idiot call in a bomb scare, thus closing the Bourne bridge for the better part of a half hour on Monday.

The weather had prompted an early exodus of weekend visitors to the resort area and traffic seemed like it might move along quite smoothly but that half hour holdup on the bridge backed traffic up for about five miles.

The action was sufficient to provide an adequate bottleneck for motorists for the rest of the afternoon.

Someone took the expression "putting your two cents worth in" literally at the Unitarian-Universalist church on Lowell street recently.

The "Plumb Line", church publication, reports that someone had deposited two cents in the suggestion box during the past week.

It was placed in petty cash.

From a friend in Spring Valley, New York, comes word that the area is in the throes of a hot school committee election.

The issues: a too high budget, a desire for a return to basics, like homework, improved college board scores and a change in the makeup of the school committee to accomplish the goals.

Thought such phenomenons happened only in Andover.

Registrations are being accepted for five morning courses available to area residents at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute. The classes will meet daily for six weeks from 8 to 11 a.m. beginning June 10.

Programs to be offered include: gourmet cooking, plant pest control and home gardening, small animal care with field trips to research labs, veterinary hospitals, small animal farms and zoos, textile design and fashion, and food processing and preserving of food.

These programs are offered tuition free in cooperation with the Massachusetts Department of Education. Those interested in registering should call Lucien Archambault at the school.

A "Special Train" to the scenic mid-coast area of Maine will depart Boston's North Station - stopping at many suburban stations to the north for passenger convenience - on Saturday, June 15. Passengers on this unique train will have the option of spending their weekend in one of six scenic locations: Old Orchard Beach, Portland's Casco Bay, Bath, Damariscotta, Camden or Boothbay. Included in the package price are three meals, hotel accommodations, scenic tours and round-trip rail transportation. The train will return to the hub Sunday evening. For reservations contact to: Mystic Valley Railway Society Inc., P.O. Box 32, Mattapan, Mass. 02126.

The annual Rose Show, co-sponsored by the New England Rose Society and the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, will be held Saturday, June 22, at the Brockton Arts Center in Brockton.

Hundreds of different roses in a wide variety of colors, sizes, and species will be woven in among the artwork at the Center for this annual extravaganza.

A special feature of this year's show will be demonstrations of Japanese flower arranging using roses, done by the Boston Chapter of Ikebana International.

This show is always a favorite with New Englanders, giving visitors a chance to learn more about the different varieties of roses, how to grow them, and the best way to display them.

In addition, the New England Rose Society will be offering cut roses and small miniature rose plants for sale during the show.

The Rose Show will be open from 1 to 9 p.m.

Births and marriages in Massachusetts decreased in 1973 over 1972 while the number of deaths remained pretty much the same. So reports State Secretary John F.X. Davoren, whose vast vital statistics registry has millions of birth, death and marriage records.

Nationally, the number of marriages increased but the upward trend percentagewise is diminishing.

In 1972 Massachusetts recorded 79,183 births whereas the provisional figure for 1973 is 74,217. Deaths in 1972 numbered 57,333 while the provisional figure for last year was 57,721. There are 48,189 recorded marriages in the Bay State in 1972 while the provisional figure for 1973 was only 46,610.

Fire each year kills nearly a thousand unattended children - those whose parents have left them alone or without adequate supervision. Add to your Spring Clean-Up checklist a resolution to keep a watchful eye on the youngsters or to make sure they're in the care of a reliable babysitter at all times.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - May, 1899

An opening of a new store was held last Friday when C.A. Hardy began his business in West Parish across from Grange Hall. All who attended were served with chocolate and the ice cream which Mrs. Hardy makes so beautifully.

A successful lawn party was held last week on the grounds of the Stowe School by the teachers under the direction of Miss Chase. Proceeds will be used to beautify the school rooms and the teachers are to be commended for their efforts.

Carl Frederickson, on a bicycle, and John Sweeney on horseback, raced from the Wood estate to the B. and M. depot Saturday afternoon on a $10 wager. Man and horse won, easily getting a lead on the bicyclist on the up grades.

Miss Martha Fogg has been selected to fill the office of day operator at the Central Andover telephone office, and David Riley will be on duty nights.

The annual Memorial Day sermon was given at Christ church and hundreds of marching veterans and their younger comrades paid tribute in a parade and service at town hall.

50 Years Ago - May, 1924

Joseph Fallon of Main street has been elected captain of the Burdette Business college baseball team.

Received in the Fourth Degree of the Knights of Columbus at Lowell Sunday afternoon from Andover were Charles L. Bailey, Fred McBride, John L. Dugan, Thomas J. Brucato and Arthur Eastwood.

Atty. Joseph Burns was elected president of the Andover-Harvard club at its annual meeting with Abbot Stevens named to serve as vice president.

The annual Memorial Day program was held with Rev. Arthur Wheelock delivering the Memorial Sunday sermon at Free Church on Elm street, and Commander Frank Markey of American Legion Post 8 in charge of the parade and services at Memorial Hall Library, Memorial Auditorium and at Phillips Academy.

25 Years Ago - May, 1949

The following were notified this week that they had passed the civil service examination for appointment to the police department: Duncan M. Cairnie, James M. Gorrie, Roger C. Davideit, Franklin E. Haggerty, Edward Pettoruto, George A. Porter and Frederick K. Welch.

Protests mount to the 100 per cent increase in telephone rates. Telephone bills reflect the increase in calls from Lawrence to Andover from five cents to ten cents.

Agreement has been reached between the Board of Public Works and Merrimack College on allowing the school to tie in to the town water and sewer system. The agreement can be altered should changes in lines be made, provided a year's notice is given.

Traditional Memorial Day services are held with a parade and services at all local cemeteries.

The weather has produced renewed interest in Poms pond but it is illegal to use the facilities there as there are no lifeguards on duty as yet.

10 Years Ago - May, 1964

The selectmen met this week but did not discuss the appointment or plans for obtaining a new town manager.

The Democratic Town Committee, at a meeting this week, voted to support Lawrence Mayor John Buckley's bid for nomination to state treasurer.

The selectmen will await a report of the underwriters on the question of a new fire station for West Andover.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

Please accept my sincere thanks for your contribution during National Hospital Week. The fact that you made portions of your weekly newspaper available to coverage of our events during National Hospital Week contributed significantly to the success of the various programs offered.

Thank you for your support and for your interest.

William L. Lane,
Director

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

That school committee member, Mr. Lane, seems to be a round peg in a square hole and I do hereby ask him to resign. He is doing no good for the education of the children in our Andover public schools. So far he seems to be the leader of that noisy lot of citizens, whose chief purpose is to spread a lot of discontent in our classrooms. Let education be good and clean and enough for all whose ambition is to graduate from Andover high school.

It's an old saying, "you can lead a horse to water, but you cannot make him drink." That goes for education. Some of our Andover school children are capable of serious study and of course there are those whose eye is not on the ball and strike out.

Please do not blame that on our hard at work school committee, Mr. Lane excluded. They were elected to do a job and so far they have not reneged. Just a little help from you can make our education come true in Andover.

Robert V. Deyermund
91 Elm St.
Andover

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

I would like to address myself to the problems that have arisen because of the recent actions of the Andover School Committee. I do not propose to take sides in that dispute, but would instead like to offer a perspective which might enable us to move beyond our present difficulties.

Rollo May once gave this definition of community: "Community can be defined simply as a group in which free conversation takes place. Community is where I can share my innermost thoughts, bring out the depths of my own feelings, and know they will be understood. . . . Communication leads to community, that is, to understanding, intimacy, and the mutual valuing that was previously lacking."

It's my contention that Andover, and the School Committee in particular, is capable of becoming that kind of a community. At the present, however, I'm deeply disturbed because this spirit of community is so dramatically lacking. Two examples:

First, the censure of a member of the School Committee by the other members of the Committee may be a legitimate legal action to take. I question the advisability of such a tactic. Censure serves:

- a. to intimidate the person charged;
- b. to stifle open conversation;
- c. to build alienation and anger;
- d. to force a dramatic response on the part of the person censured;
- e. to misdirect the proper focus of the Committee, i.e. to focus on interpersonal differences rather than the quality of education within the system.

To censure an individual does nothing to enhance the development of community, but serves only to destroy it.

Second, I'm disturbed by the manner in which persons are being treated. It could well be that the present administrative structure of our school system needs changing; it could well be that the elective programs in the High School need revision; it could well be that we need to reappraise our basic approach to education. But that is no excuse for the shabby way in which respected persons have been treated. If change is needed, it should occur only after the issues have been raised in open discussion, where the people most involved have had an opportunity to give their input, and where the community has had an opportunity to react. Then, if change takes place, reputations will not have been needlessly abused and persons will have been respected.

A healthy community is not characterized by uniformity (where everyone agrees and where dissent is stifled); rather, a healthy community is characterized by unity in diversity. A healthy community is one where all viewpoints are heard and where persons are respected.

Andover is too fine a community to be torn apart by differing educational philosophies and by interpersonal squabbling. I feel that Andover is capable of better.

And so I share with you a vision of what might be: Andover - a community characterized by free conversation by and respect for persons. I urge you, as citizens of this community, to help make this vision a reality.

Organ Concert

On Saturday, June 1, the Hammond Castle in Gloucester, will present organist, Kenneth Wilson in a program of organ music. Mr. Wilson will play many favorites including El Capitan March, the Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet, selections from Sound of Music and others. Children's Room News

By Jan Johnson

We're getting a jump on summer with the beginning of our Secret Book of the Month Contest this Saturday (June 1). This is how it works. Each month (June, July and August) the librarians will choose a fairly familiar book to be the secret one. Every week that month a clue will be added to the list - each clue more revealing than the last. When you think you know which book it is, write your guess on the ballots provided and put it in the box. All correct answers will receive a certificate and the two earliest correct guesses will receive prizes. You may guess as often as once a week. Remember, it all starts June 1.

Registration for both Littlest Listeners and Pajama Party continues. Spaces are available in these pre-school story hours that run from October to May, but now is the time to register your child.

America's first successful cotton mill was constructed entirely from memory. After the Revolutionary War, England and France prohibited export of textile machines, and banned emigration of persons knowing how to build them. But Englishman Samuel Slater, a textile apprentice, disguised himself as a farmer and came to Rhode Island. There he reconstructed textile machinery from memory and in 1793 launched a mighty new industry.

A Variety Of Offerings To Feature Annual TV Auction

Did you ever want to run away and join the circus? Well, The Circus is Back in Town Again. The 1974 Channel 2 Auction is staging its own and you don't have to leave the comforts of your home to join.

Starting May 31 and running through June 8, the TV viewer will see everything from the bizarre to the banal as residents and merchants from the Andover and North Andover area have been coming through again in full force with hundreds of exciting items.

However, if you still want to join the circus you will have the opportunity to bid on a special circus package donated by Ringling Brothers, Barnum Bailey including the chance to be a part of next year's annual event for one day, tickets for family and friends plus lots more.

There will be everything from an AMC Matador to motorcycles, from trips to Europe to a week on the Cape, from thousands of gum balls to meals in well-known restaurants. Items of special interest are 280 pounds of bananas, an antique bed warmer, a $10 gold piece, an autographed Hall of Fame baseball, a children's magic show, a dozen sterling silver bread and butter plates and a man's Sagari Walking suit, to name a few.

Under the Auction Big Top

there will also be such items from local donors as: weekends at nearby inns and motels; football tickets to the Patriots; a week in a condominium at Waterville Valley, Smuggler's Notch and Portugal; flying lessons; basketball or hockey camp; a $350 depth finder for boating enthusiasts; a Welch pony and a ton of hay.

Many local residents and merchants have already sent in their donations, but it is not too late to contribute. To do so, just call the Auction Office at 868-3800 or your local Area Chairman.

Joining in all this wild, wonderful madness only takes a bid, which can be made on an item by phoning the number that will appear on the screen. The announced high bidder must stay by his phone and an Auction volunteer will call to confirm the bid. Then, off to Pick Up and Pay to claim the item!

Be sure to watch the grand opening of this electronic extravaganza Friday, May 31 at 7:30 p.m. and every day from 1 to 1. For those patrons of the arts, Sunday, June 2 is set aside for the auctioning of art.

Last year's Auction raised $566,000 for WGBH, and Hamilton Osgood, Auction Manager, is anticipating an even greater success this year.

WGBH is a Public Broadcasting Station and depends on the generosity of its supporters in order to continue originating and producing quality television viewing.

Among many local residents who have volunteered to serve at Channel 2 during Auction Week, are Mrs. Peter Price, Auction Week Chairman of Auctioneers, and Mrs. John Wall, Bid Taker Team Captain, both of Andover.

Archdiocese
Choir To Be In Concert

The second program of the Methuen Memorial Music Hall 1974 summer programs will present a concert of choral and organ music on June 5, Wednesday, at 8:30 p.m.

The Boston Archdiocesan Choir School assisted by the St. Paul Men's Schola under the direction of Theodore Marier will sing. James Dunn, organist; Edward Haugh, trumpeter, plus Leo Abbott and Dennis Crowley, pianists, take their parts in the program also.

The Boston Archdiocesan Choir School, formerly known as the Saint Paul Choir School, was founded in 1963 under the patronage of the late Cardinal Cushing. The pupils, ranging in age from 10 to 14, receive a full academic training in addition to an extensive musical education. They take part regularly in the services of St. Paul's Church in Harvard Square, Cambridge. In recent years the choir has toured extensively in the United States and in Italy, France, England and Ireland. They have performed with the Boston Symphony Orchestra on several occasions. With Anthony Newman, organist, they recorded the chorales of Bach's Klavierbung III, available on Columbia Masterworks, M2-32497.

The program includes: Dankpsalm-Max Reger; Festival Te Deum-Benjamin Britten; Gloria, from Missa Sine Nomina - Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina; I will love thee - Leo Sowerby; Romanza, from Eine kleine Nachtmusik - Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart; Litanies a la Vierge Noire - Francis Poulenc; An Easter Sequence (excerpts) The Lord is my Shepherd, Alleluia, Organ Interlude, God is ascended - Kenneth Leighton; Two Compositions for Choir and Electronic Tape (In the beginning - The call of Isaiah) - Daniel Pinkham; Tu mi vuoi tanto bene (I love you so dearly) - Italian Fold Song; Salut printemps (Hail, spring!) - Claude Debussy; Maypole Dance, from Merrymount - Howard Hanson.

Washington
The Farmer

Washington's farm at Mount Vernon, one of the finest of its kind at the time, contained 10,000 acres, or about 15 square miles.

According to one source, Washington had, in 1787, 280 acres in grass; 600 acres of oats; 700 acres of wheat, and as much more in corn, barley, potatoes, beans and peas. He also had 150 acres of turnips.

The Civilizing Force

Nine-tenths of all seeds cultivated are cereal grains - the breadstuffs of the world. And historians say early civilizations developed in Egypt and Mesopotamia because their climates were favorable for growing cereal grains.

Corn first grew in South America's Andes mountains and then migrated to North America.

Andover Chamber Dinner

The Andover Chamber of Commerce will hold its 12th Annual Dinner Meeting on Thursday, June 13, at the Andover Country Club in Andover.

This year's event has been planned as an evening devoted to dining, dancing and the renewing of old friendship. The highlight of the short business meeting to be conducted that evening will be the honoring of two Andover citizens who will be presented with the President's Award and the Community Service Award. Both recipients honored for their unending and devoted service to the community will be named during that portion of the business meeting which will also feature the formal change over of leadership from the 1973-74 president and officers to the 1974-75 President and officers.

The evening will begin with a social hour at 6 p.m., a roast beef dinner at 7 p.m., award ceremonies at 8:15 p.m. and followed by dancing to the tune of Andover's own Hart Leavitt Band until the early morning hours.

Reservations to the Andover Chamber Dinner Meeting may be made by contacting the Andover Chamber of Commerce office.

Sidewalk Bazaar Days Set

The fifteenth Annual Sidewalk Bazaar Days sponsored by the Andover Chamber of Commerce will be held on Friday and Saturday, June 21 and 22.

Bazaar Chairman Charles Heseltine of Dana's has announced that the initial organizational meeting for all interested participating organizations will be held on Wednesday, June 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Service room of the Bay State Bank, Andover. Any social, civic, fraternal or religious organization wishing to participate in this year's bazaar is asked to send a representative to this important meeting. Participating organizations will then be assigned to booth locations situated along Main Street.

The Fifteenth Annual Bazaar Days coordinated by the Andover Center Merchants appears to be on its way to becoming the largest as many members of the Retail Community have indicated that a good selection of merchandise will be offered at value prices.

Chairman Heseltine has indicated that attractive values on merchandise combined with the planned events of entertainment, art displays, races and competitive events, Judo exhibitions and amusements will entertain the entire family as they return to uptown Andover for Sidewalk Bazaar Days June 21 and 22.

Any organization wishing to participate in this year's bazaar but unable to attend the organizational meeting at the Bay State Bank on June 5 may do so by contacting Charles Heseltine at Dana's or William Arvanitis at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Memorial Day

typify that higher and truer Americanism which lies quiet and still within us ready to spring out whenever the needs of the country issue yet another call to arms," he said.

Commander Schroeder expressed the feeling that Memorial Day will retain its original significance, noting that parading veterans of these past few years are made up of those who served in Korea and Vietnam, just as in prior years, those who served in the World Wars preserved the traditional tribute.

"Yes, our country is blessed with men and women who are willing to give the best they have to preserve freedom, because they love it. Such patriotism that United States has always received in every crises of her history.

"The men we honor today, at this Memorial Service, have left all Americans with a proud heritage. Let us not forget them or the legacy they left us," he concluded.

Atty. John C. Doherty of Post 2128, V.F.W., was master of ceremonies for the service which was opened with a prayer by Rev. Michael DeGregorio, OSA, of St. Augustine's parish. After the Andover High School band played the National Anthem, Congressman Paul W. Cronin delivered the eulogy.

Miss Nancy Balin of the Girl Scouts, recited In Flanders Field, and F. Douglas Cummings gave the Gettysburg Address.

Wreathes were placed by VFW Commander Patrick M. Glynn and Legion Commander Wilfred Blanchette.

The closing prayers was offered by Rev. Richard Bamforth pastor of Free Christian church.

Taps was sounded by Kevin Retelle, with James Retelle giving the echo response.

Benjamin M. Brown of American Legion Post 8, and John J. Lewis, veterans agent, were parade marshals.

Commander Wilfred Blanchette, Chaplain James Caldwell of American Legion Post 8, assisted by Rev. Richard Bamforth of Free Christian church, conducted memorial services at the American Legion Lot, and G.A.R. monument in Spring Grove cemetery and at South church cemetery.

At West Parish and St. Augustine's cemeteries, services were conducted by V.F.W. Post 2128, led by Commander Patrick Flynn and Rev. Michael DeGregorio, OSA.

At 8:30 a.m., ceremonies were held at Memorial Hall library with Father DiGregorio giving the opening prayer, Commander Flynn delivering the eulogy and being assisted by Katherine Quinn, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of Post 128 placing a floral tribute.

School Principal Injured In Crash

Andover High School Principal Philip F. Wormwood was in good condition at Lawrence General Hospital Wednesday where he was under treatment for injuries sustained in an automobile accident Saturday.

Wormwood was being treated for rib and head injuries as a result of the accident in Shawsheen.
